SUBJECT HEADING FOR YOUR EMAIL:

  Can You Help Us Get $500 for Our Shelter?

We really appreciate your love for animals, and it is amazing humans like you who keep us rescuing dogs and cats so we can find them forever homes.

But the stark reality is that it costs a lot of money to run a shelter and even foster pets so they do not get euthanized. The goal of shelters is to find the best homes for loving animals. We need money to keep our shelters going so we can feed them and pay for their medical bills, which are quite costly.

That is where we could use your help. BarkWiki and MeowWiki have teamed up and are offering us both a chance to get $500 each—per website.

There is a free opportunity for you to enter, and if you win, we humbly ask that you choose our shelter. Then we will both get $500 each!

There are no taxes to pay and we could use those funds to help our animals waiting for amazing homes and rescue new ones who need our help once they get adopted.

Please consider entering and we would love it if you choose us!

They are offering this every 90 days, and we could potentially get $1,000 each time if you help spread the word.
